

Dear Colleagues,

As the largest paediatric cancer meeting in the world, the SIOP Congress returns to provide a highly interactive platform for parents, survivors, clinicians, healthcare professionals, scientists and industry to network and share knowledge on the research and treatment of all cancer types in children and young people.

From the 5-8 October 2012, in the heart of the City of London, SIOP 2012 will focus on the very latest technologies with the aim of taking the essential next steps towards converting new knowledge into a reality at the patient level.
